|--|
| 1. General description of the project or program, including type of project & location. |
| 2. Potential contribution of this initiative to the future quality of life in the region. The implementation of recognized projects will significantly add to the region's network of green infrastructure, broadly speaking, but each initiative will be judged within its own context. Some will shape future development patterns in our region, or be of well-known regional significance, while others may be recognized for their unique role in a smaller neighborhood setting. |
| 3. How the initiative will be implemented. The initiative should be one for which funding or a funding mechanism, or if funding is not required, other means for implementation such as a clear and fair public process has been identified. |
| 4. Stage of the project, policy or program; what is the urgency of this project? Most recognized initiatives face a turning point of some kind during the year in which they are listed. The initiative may need to build public awareness, gain public funding, or obtain local, regional or state approvals. |
| 5. Key stakeholders (public, private or civic) and how they have been involved to date. |
| 6. Primary contact information for key sponsors of the initiative, including address, phone number and email address, and website if applicable. |
| 7. Provide a map of the project, if relevant, including any important ecological features, or provide a website where map may be found. |
